JURASSIC CLASSIC

Is Coming To Town February 26 – March 1

It's that time of the year again! Glen Rose will once again be inundated with barrel racers from all walks of life for the bi-annual Jurassic Classic at the Expo Center. This barrel race is geared to entice barrel racers from the novice starting out to the professional barrel racers making their way to and from the Houston stock show. Featuring the Open 5D all day Saturday and Sunday. Barrel racers enter the event every year because of the great prizes, inexpensive entry fees and large payouts! Paying out over $60,000 in 2006, over $57,000 in 2007 and 37,000 in 2008, the event keeps drawing barrel racers from several states and the entire state of Texas. Vendor booths are available with a variety of goods featuring home décor, clothing, tack jewelry, art, and much more. Barrel racers love the Jurassic Classic and they love coming to Glen Rose! Mark your calendars for Feb. 26-March 1, 2009 for the bi-annual event. The main race days are Saturday, Feb. 28 and Sunday, March 1. Check out the schedule of events online at the Expo Center website or call for information. Starting in 2008, a trophy trailer is now given away at the event to the lucky winner which comes from all the contestants who draw a check in the Open 5D at the Jurassic Classic. A stick horse race for the youngsters run Sunday morning at 9:30 and is always a great event for the children. Many buckles, saddles and other prizes are also awarded at the Jurassic every year. Come join the fun!!
